REPORT

FOR THE

YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31ST, 1879.

THE year 1879 was characterised by the great prevalence of Scarlet Fever in the Metropolis and surrounding districts, the epidemic attaining its height during the last three months of the year. Measles also has been unusually prevalent. The admissions into The London Fever Hospital have considerably exceeded those of any previous year since the exclusion of the pauper patients, this increase being due to Scarlet Fever and Measles.

817 cases were admitted, as against 635 in 1878 and 128 in 1873.

Of these 817 admissions, 749 were cases of infectious Fever, and 68 were diseases other than Fever. There were 91 patients remaining in the Hospital on December 31, 1878, giving a total number under treatment during the year of 908 ; of these 703 were discharged recovered, 81 died, and 124 remained in the Hospital on January 1, 1880.

Tables I. and II. give the general statistics of the different forms of Fever.

Six cases of Typhus were admitted and 1 remained from the past year, total 7—males 6, females 1 ; 6 of these recovered and 1 remained under treatment ; this case has since recovered. Of these 6 cases 2 were removed from other Fever Hospitals, 1 was sent in by the sanitary authority, 1 was a domestic servant, 1 was a nurse in the Fever Hospital, and 1 case was a patient who also contracted the disease in the Hospital.

Daily average for the year 81·8 per cent.

Enteric or Typhoid showed a considerable decline as compared with the previous years. 69 cases were admitted and 13 remained, giving a total of 82; of these 10 died and 3 remained under treatment. The rate of mortality of the cases treated to their termination was 12·67 per cent., or excluding 2 cases which were admitted moribund, 10·39 per cent. This rate of mortality is considerably lower than has occurred in any year since the exclusion of the pauper cases.

Tables IV. and V. give the usual information as to the cases of Typhoid.

Nineteen cases of Scarlet Fever and 1 of Febricula contracted Measles; 2 cases of Measles, 4 of Typhoid, and 1 of a disease other than Fever, contracted Scarlatina. 1 case of Scarlet Fever; contracted Typhoid, and 1 Typhus. It was impossible to trace the source of contagion in the latter instance as there had been no case of Typhus in the Hospital for 10 weeks. 1 nurse contracted Typhus and 1 Scarlatina, both recovered.

Table X. shows the social position of the patients and the mode of their admission.

441 were admitted on payment—360 free, and 16 by Governor's Order. 100 came from other hospitals and charitable institutions, and 23 from schools. Most of the cases from other hospitals were admitted from the different children's hospitals of the metropolis; to these institutions the London Fever Hospital must be regarded as a most essential supplement, as by its means the spread of contagious disease in them is prevented. 180 were domestic servants and nurses, and 119 clerks and employés in houses of business. This is the only institution in London available for persons of this class, who would otherwise have to obtain admission into the Pauper Fever Asylums.

Thirty-seven patients were received into the private wards.

The unusual influx of cases of Measles and Scarlatina during the last three months of the year, and the great variety of infectious diseases which were under treatment at the same time, comprising Typhus, Typhoid, Scarlatina, the two forms of Measles, Morbilli and Rubeola, together with Diphtheria, taxed to the utmost the resources of the Hospital to provide due accommodation and isolation, and the Committee regret that in several instances patients admitted for one form of Fever contracted another. In consequence it was found necessary to take steps for fitting up two upper wards, which were used as sleeping rooms by convalescent patients, for the reception of cases of Typhoid. This necessarily involves a considerable outlay in building lavatories and water-closets; and still further modifications of the building are much needed to adapt it to the requirements of its present function of isolating and treating cases of Fever among persons of a higher class than those who are received into the Pauper Fever Asylums. Increased accommodation for nurses is also urgently wanted.

The need of a Convalescent Hospital for infectious cases, especially Scarlatina, has been much felt. At present these patients have to be retained in the Hospital long after convalescence has become established in order to prevent the dissemination of the disease, and, in consequence, not only is the accommodation for acute cases much diminished, but the health of the convalescents themselves is impaired by their long confinement in the vitiated atmosphere of the Hospital.

Several changes have occurred during the year in the governing body of the Hospital and the Medical Staff.

Mr. Dimsdale, who for many years had filled the important office of Treasurer, died in February, and the Committee placed on record an expression of the high respect and warm esteem in which he was ever held by his colleagues, as well as their sense of the great loss they have sustained by his removal.

At a Meeting of the Governors held in May, 1879, Mr. Alderman Fowler was elected Treasurer in the place of Mr. Dimsdale.

On April 23, Dr. Murchison, a Vice-President, and Consulting Physician, whose name will ever be associated with the London Fever Hospital, was suddenly carried off at the early age of forty-eight, too soon for the profession of which he was such an ornament.

and for the science which he did so much to augment, though not too soon to establish an undying reputation.

The Committee placed on record its high admiration of his character and abilities, and of the invaluable services which he had rendered to the Institution.

In August Dr. Prowse, the Resident Medical Officer, having received an appointment at St. Mary's Hospital, resigned his post, and Dr. Tonge Smith, the Assistant Medical Officer, was elected as his successor.

In December Dr. Broadbent, the Senior Physician, after eighteen years' service, was compelled by increasing demands on his time to resign his office. In accepting his resignation, which they did with deep regret, the Committee passed a resolution expressing their appreciation of the eminent services which he had rendered to the London Fever Hospital during the long period of eighteen years, and also their sense of the great loss which the Institution sustains by his retirement. They are gratified to know that by his nomination to the office of Consulting Physician he will still be enabled to continue to give to the Institution the benefit of his counsel in the administration of its affairs.

It was resolved that a copy of their resolution should be illuminated and presented to Dr. Broadbent.

In conclusion, the Committee have again to call attention to the fact that the necessary annual expenditure much exceeds the income of the charity, and the deficiency has to be made up by selling out every year a further portion of the rapidly diminishing funded capital. The Committee are therefore compelled to make an urgent appeal to the Governors and the public at large not to allow an Institution whose work is of such great importance to the public health to be brought to a standstill for the want of the necessary funds for its maintenance.

CHARLES FINN, Secretary.

LONDON FEVER HOSPITAL,

LIVERPOOL ROAD, ISLINGTON.

LAWS AND REGULATIONS.

Objects of the Institution.

1. All poor persons (not being parochial paupers) and domestic servants of subscribers, labouring under contagious fever, and residing in the metropolis or its neighbourhood, shall be considered proper objects for this charity, and shall be admitted gratuitously, according to the next regulation. Domestic servants, employés in houses of business, and others similarly situated, and all inmates of other public charities (except medical hospitals), shall be admitted on the payment of such sum for each patient as the Committee shall from time to time determine.

2. On application for the admission of any patient to the Hospital, notice shall be immediately given to the resident medical officer, and the person after inspection may be admitted by an order signed by him, or on a certificate signed by any physician, surgeon, or apothecary, stating the disease to be fever of a contagious nature, or likely to become such. The order or certificate shall entitle the patient to admission, subject to the provisions contained in Rule No. 1, unless the case shall be deemed an improper one by the resident medical officer, or unless the Hospital shall be full.

Governors.

3. All subscribers of one guinea annually, or of ten guineas in one donation, shall be governors of this Hospital.

General Meeting and Election of the Committee.

4. A general meeting of the governors, of which ten days' previous notice must be given in three morning newspapers, shall be held every year, on the second Friday in February, or as near thereto as may be convenient, for the purpose of approving or rescinding the proceedings of the Committee for the preceding year; for receiving an annual report of the state of the funds; and for electing a president, vice-presidents, treasurer, honorary secretary, and other members of the Committee for the ensuing year. At all meetings connected with the affairs of the Hospital, a simple majority of the governors present and voting shall bind the minority; and in case of equality of votes, the chairman shall have an additional vote or casting vote.

5. A special general meeting of the governors may at any time be called by direction of the president or of the Committee; or on the requisition of any twelve governors, provided the requisition be made in writing to the Secretary, and the purpose for which the same is summoned be published in three morning newspapers at least ten days prior to the next meeting; but the proceedings of such special general meeting, though acted upon pro tempore, shall not be deemed final until confirmed by another general meeting.

6. No new rule or law shall be made, nor shall any existing rule or law be repealed or altered, until determined upon at a general meeting by a majority of governors present and voting, and until confirmed at a subsequent general or special meeting.

7. The presence of seven governors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum at general meetings, and without that number no business shall be transacted.

8. At the annual general meeting, a Committee for the management of the Institution shall be elected, consisting of the president, the vice-presidents, the treasurer, honorary secretary, and twenty-four other governors; four of which governors shall not have been members of the preceding Committee. They shall meet on the last Friday, or on such other day of every month as the Committee may appoint; and three members shall be necessary to constitute a meeting, and to transact business. A special meeting of the Committee may be called by the direction of the treasurer, or by any three members of the Committee, on giving at least three days' notice of the same, and specifying the business for which it is called.

9. The Committee shall have authority to appoint sub-committees, whose reports shall be submitted to their consideration; they shall elect all the officers, except the physicians of the Hospital and the honorary secretary, who shall be elected by the governors at large; and, with the assistance of the medical officers, shall form regulations and bye-laws for the internal management of the Hospital.

10. The resolutions of one meeting of the Committee shall not be rescinded by another, unless it be specially summoned for that purpose. All accounts, except such small sums as may be comprised under the item of petty cash, shall be submitted to the Committee at the monthly meetings, after having been duly examined by the secretary, the resident medical officer, and the house-directors; and such accounts, if approved, shall be paid by cheques payable to order, signed in Committee by the chairman and one other member, or, in case a Committee cannot be formed, by two of the house-directors, and in all cases countersigned by the secretary. All the larger articles of supply, when practicable, shall be furnished by contract made after public tender. No expenditure for repairs of premises or any machinery shall be incurred without a written order from the Committee or house-directors.

11. The Committee shall yearly publish a report of the state of the Hospital.

12. No person being a member of the Committee shall furnish for profit any goods, provisions, or other articles, for the use of, or on account of, the Hospital, or be concerned in any contract for supplying the same, or be employed for hire, or wages, or profit, in any office or employment under the charity.

Treasurer.

13. The treasurer, if present, shall take the chair at all meetings of the Committee, in the absence of the president or vice-presidents. He shall keep an account at the bankers', and all moneys received for the use of the Hospital shall be paid to such account; he shall honour all cheques signed, as provided in Rule 10; and the signature of the secretary shall be a sufficient warranty that the cheques purporting to be so signed are properly signed, and shall be an indemnity to the treasurer against risk.

Auditors.

14. Three gentlemen shall be appointed annually at the meeting of the Committee in November, who shall audit the accounts of the Institution for the current year, and approve an abstract of all receipts and disbursements to be prepared by the secretary, and laid before the annual general meeting in February.

Monthly Directors.

15. The Committee shall at their first meeting, in the month of February, elect three members of their own body to be directors of the Hospital, in addition to the trustees and two senior physicians, who shall be ex officio directors. And the Committee may appoint one of such directors to be the chairman, who shall retain his office for the ensuing twelve months, the Committee appointing the other directors, excepting the ex officio directors, monthly. Two of the directors to form a quorum.

16. They shall from time to time cause the beds, clothes, and apparel belonging to the Hospital to be examined, and shall report thereon, if necessary, to the Committee. They shall inspect the tradesmen's bills, and take care that the provisions, bedding, clothing, furniture, and every article for the use of the Hospital, be supplied on the most reasonable terms ; they shall order in writing all permanent stores.

17. They shall be authorised in all respects to enforce the observance of the regulations of the Hospital ; they shall notice and report to the Committee any irregularity or misconduct on the part of the officers, servants, or patients of the charity, and shall, at every meeting of the Committee, cause a statement of the house expenditure to be produced for the preceding month. They shall appoint the porters, nurses, and other menial servants of the Hospital, and dismiss them for misconduct.

17A. The chairman of the directors shall, during the intervals between their meetings, be authorised to exercise the functions of the directors in any matter of urgency, he reporting, at their next meeting, what he shall have done under this authority.

Physicians.

24. He shall superintend the patients between the visits of the physicians, and the dispensary shall be exclusively under his control. In the absence of the Committee and house-directors, he shall be recognised as the head of the establishment.

25. Accurate registers of the patients admitted, as well as of the remedies employed for their recovery, shall be kept, which registers shall be the property of the Hospital; he shall produce a special report every month, to be laid before the Committee.

26. When the number of patients shall be great, a medical assistant shall be appointed by the house-directors, subject to the confirmation of the Committee, and he shall receive such remuneration as the Committee shall from time to time determine.

Honorary Secretary.

27. There shall be an honorary secretary, who shall also be a member of the Committee, and chosen annually with them. He shall be at liberty to attend all deputations to public bodies and private persons.
